

2023 HEALTHCARE SUMMIT SNAPSHOT

POTOMAC OFFICERS CLUB

BACKGROUND

Emerging technologies are taking the U.S. government by storm, and the healthcare sector has taken notice. To unlock the benefits these tools have to offer, government healthcare organizations are embracing technological transformation and exploring new ways to drive federal health missions forward.

CONTRACT OPPORTUNITIES

The Defense Health Agency plans to issue a solicitation for its Global Nurse Advice Line contract in December. Under the contract, which has an anticipated value of $100 million–$250 million, the awardee will be expected to deliver reliable, timely, professional and courteous nurse triage, care advice and care coordination as well as constant customer support for Military Health System beneficiaries.

The Food and Drug Administration aims to start accepting solicitations for its Move and Labor Services indefinite-delivery/indefinite-quantity contract in January 2024. This opportunity has an expected value of $50 million–$100 million, and contracting services will support the agency's Washington Metropolitan headquarters area and White Oak Campus.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' upcoming PERM RC & ERC Combined Contract is intended to provide the agency with administrative management and general management consulting services. CMS plans to award the contract, which is expected to be valued between $50 million– $100 million, in quarter two of fiscal year 2024.
